—Hope that Captain Walter Hinch-liffe and the Hon. Elsie Mackay, who are lost after an attempt at a trans-Atlantic flight, might still be alive was revived here today.An airplane was reported to have landed in the woods near here on Thursday at about the time it was believed the airplane Endeavor, in which the trans-Atlantic attempt was made, would have run out of fuel. Many people here and in Kobago, a woods settlement, reported hearing an airplane at that time.John Eyer of Kobago told the United Press he had heard the plane.
When he went to the window he could not see it. He said the sound seemed to disappear in the distance southwest of Kobago lake.John Haines and Wyman Rogers left yesterday afternoon and planned to make a complete reconnoitering tour through the woods. Probably they will not complete their search until today, although they planned to work all night.Montreal, Que., March 17.—Commander Richard E. Byrd's South Pole monoplane was tested in the vicinity of the Greenville woods, where it was reported an airplane was heard which might have been that of Captain Hinchliffe.Floyd Bennett, Byrd's pilot, flew the plane from St. Albans, Vt., to Grandmère, Que., and it was considered likely he might have flown off course and gone by the way of the woods. This was considered more of a likelihood than that the trans-Atlantic fliers would have gone so far inland.A detective left here last night for Roches Point to investigate the reports.PLANE CARRYING

Six hundred villagers planned to eat three full meals here today for the first time since February 28 when heavy snows blocked all communication with the outside world and left them with only a meagre supply of food.The snow-blockade was broken twice yesterday, first by a team of seven huskies which had spent two days getting through the huge snow drifts and blizzard between here and Sault Ste. Marie, and second by an army transport plane which arrived with several hundred pounds of food.The airplane, piloted by Lieut. Joseph Sopher of Chanute field, Rantoul, Ill., made a second trip between here and Sault Ste. Marie, and today will make a third flight to carry additional provisions.Mrs. E. Benton, who has been ill for a week without proper medical attention, will be taken back to Sault Ste. Marie in the airplane today. Lieut. Sopher yesterday took back Russel Goetz, seriously ill with blood poisoning. Physicians had little hope for his recovery unless he received hospital treatment.Snow plows will be used again today by villagers in an attempt to clear roads leading out of the vil-record of the famous case police found that he didn't know very much about it and ordered him sent to the psy-

Republicans of Minnesota, meet-today will select delegates to the state convention to be held here on March 24. Most of the county caucuses are scheduled for 2 o'clock.While practically every county delegation is expected to line up behind Frank O. Lowden, former Illinois governor, as presidential nominee, a battle probably will be waged in most of the sessions over instructions or non-instruction of state delegates to the national convention.Lowden leaders served notice on their opponents Friday that they are prepared to fight for Lowden-instructed delegates. Supporters of Herbert Hoover for president let it be known that they will not demand instructions for their representatives, but will be content with personal pledges.The center of contention will be at Duluth and sections of Minneapolis, judging from the results of the precinct caucuses earlier in the $76 was in small cash amounts.Borah's total contributions have not been tabulated, but it was es-

Six hundred Boy Scouts are search-high school student who disappeared Tuesday while on a hunting trip west of Cedar Lake.The finding late yesterday of a clue led scoutmasters to organize the bandits failed to take into considof police passed by the Imperial build-raised hands.The squad entered the building and crashed in the door of the gambling

ERTIES, BUILD NEW HOMES
ON FOUNDATIONSLos Angeles, March 17.—(UP)—
Residents of the once beautiful Santa Clara river valley today began the work of turning the valley once more into a fruitful land, while the work of burying bodies of the dead in the St. Francis dam disaster continues.Farmers were returning to their property today and in some cases new structures were forming on the foundations from which houses were washed when 12,000,000,000 gallons of water came rushing down the valley.While conflicting reports were made as to the number dead, it was almost a certainty that the human toll would be about 300 lives and possibly more.About 200 bodies have been identified and about 75 remain unidentified.As the huge army of workmen continued clearing debris and tangle wreckage it was believed more bodies would be uncovered.An inquest into the flood will be held Tuesday when an attempt will be made officially to place the blame for the dam breaking and the resultant catastrophe.Col. Charles T. Leeds, former United States department of interior engineer, yesterday headed a committee of engineers employed by Los Angeles to examine the wrecked dam. No comment was forthcoming, however.The matter of relief caused much controversy between Los Angeles city officials and the Red Cross, it was reported.The Red Cross favored a national appeal for flood aid, while city officials state that Los Angeles would take care of the post-flood needs without outside aid, it was said.C. C. McTeague, chairman of the flood relief committee at Santa Paula issued the first official statement on the amount of damage done to that town."We now are able to get a rough picture of the disaster caused by the breaking of the St. Francis dam and the problems resulting," his statement read."The city of Santa Paula is hardest hit and the burden has followed on the working people of the city, who can least afford to bear it.""Our survey shows that 135 homes have been totally destroyed; 87 badly damaged; 51 partially damaged.
The damage to the homes in the city is in round numbers $500,000 not including damage to farming property, streets, or public utilities within the city limits.""The number of persons affected in the afflicted area approximately is 750. Probably 75 per cent of damage to homes in the entire area is within the city of Santa Paula, although, of course, there is a large property damage to farming lands, highways, utilities and railroads."HICKMAN ENTERS

AT LOOP RECORDSt. Paul, March 17.—(UP)—Charles "Speed" Holman, winner of the New York-Spokane air derby and manager of the Northwest Airways Corp., took off at the municipal airport here today in a second attempt to break the world's aerial looping record.The record now is held by a French aviator who made 1,111 loops a month ago, breaking Holman's record of 1,693.Fair calm weather favored Holman.
It is expected that the stunt will take about four hours.Holman carried about 100 gallons of gasoline, which he said would keep him in the air five and one-half hours.
At Minneapolis a month ago when he did 1,093 loops, he carried 73 gallons of gasoline, remaining in the air four hours and 30 minutes.In the first half hour, Holman completed 104 loops. He was making them at the rate of four a minute, and staying at a height of about 3,000 feet. At that rate, it would take him to nearly 6 P. M. to break the record.After being in the air one hour and 20 minutes the St. Paul aviator had completed 350 loops.Holman had completed 556 loops at 2:16 P. M., two hours after taking off.PRESIDENT IRISH FREE STATE SENDS
HIS GREETINGSREFERS TO HIS RECENT VISIT
IN UNITED STATES AND CANADADE VALERA SPEAKS OF ECON-OMIC AIMS OF IRISH
REPUBLICANSBy WILLIAM T. COSGRAVE
(President Irish Free State)
(Copyright, 1928, by United Press)Dublin, March 17.—On behalf of the Irish nation, I again am privileged to send greetings to the people of our race in America.My recent visit to the United States and Canada brought vividly to my personal knowledge how deep and powerful is the love of Ireland implanted in Irish hearts in every rank of life in the great states of North America.I heard with pride and satisfaction during my visits many tributes paid to those of my countrymen who, as citizens of the United States, have contributed to the development of that great continent — as dogged pioneers, as gallant soldiers, as enterprising men of affairs — and of their efforts on behalf of religion and culture.It was with feelings of profound gratification that I learned of their citizenship and of the fact they were abiding loyally in the land of their adoption. It was all the more pleasing to have this testimony freely tendered by the citizens of the United States who were not of Irish blood.We may well reflect on what might have been, had circumstances enabled Ireland to retain the services of her far-scattered children. Yet it has not all been loss and today when the old land has at last raised her flag among the nations and is at work building the Irish Free State, she is conscious of the loving hope and constant living faith with which her exiled children are watching.The ancient homeland is a source of a nation's strength and its potentialities are not visionary, but the knowledge of faith and pride of her world-engirdling race is an additional incentive to us in our efforts to make our dreams of a prosperous and Irish Ireland come true.By EAMON DE VALERA
(Irish Republican Leader)
(Copyright, 1928, by United Press)Dublin, March 17.—To provide employment so that it may no longer be necessary for our young people to emigrate is perhaps our most pressing problem in Ireland today.The dispersion of our people, of which almost universal celebration of St. Patrick's Day is such evidence, still is going on.About 300,000 of our young adults, have left our country since the British imposed their so-called treaty in December, 1921, and the latest census shows that a greater percentage of people who were born in Ireland live in exile than that of any other country.The percentage in the case of Ireland is 30.5; that in the case of Norway, which comes next, 14.8.There is but one solution to the problem—we must not only organize and develop our agriculture on most modern lines, remembering that it is always likely to remain our chief industry, but we must build up side by side with it all other industries which are required to supply our needs.We must not only provide substantially all our own food, but we must organize and equip factories to provide ourselves with boots, clothing, shelter and a thousand other things we daily need and use—importing nothing we can produce ourselves.This is the fundamental aim of the economic policy of the Irish republicans. It is the task to which the Fianna Fail will set itself immediately it comes into power.Irish exiles in every part of the world, remembering how they, themselves, were forced to leave the homeland, will sympathize with us when we undertake this task and wish us well.Chicago—When Dr. Esme M. Kilbride learned in court her divorce petition was to be granted she immediately applied a stethoscope to her heart "just to see what effect the news would have."

St. Paul, Minn., March 17.—(UP)—Republicans of Minnesota, meeting in 87 county seats of the state today will select delegates to the state convention to be held here on March 24. Most of the county caucuses are scheduled for 2 o'clock.

While practically every county delegation is expected to line up behind Frank O. Lowden, former Illinois governor, as presidential nominee, a battle probably will be waged in most of the sessions over instructions or non-instruction of state delegates to the national convention.

Lowden leaders served notice on their opponents Friday that they are prepared to fight for Lowden-instructed delegates. Supporters of Herbert Hoover for president let it be known that they will not demand instructions for their representatives, but will be content with personal pledges.

The center of contention will be at Duluth and sections of Minneapolis, judging from the results of the precinct caucuses earlier in the week. Practically every other section of the state lined up behind the Illinoisan for the presidential nomination, while Duluth and wards of the metropolis of the state held out for Hoover.

BURGLARS CARRY AWAY DRESSES

Red Wing, Minn., March 17.—(UP)—Discriminating burglars carried away about 40 women's dresses and six fur coats, valued at $1,000, from the M. Lewis company women's apparel shop here last night.

The thieves selected only the larger sizes in the dresses and coats and apparently spent considerable time in the store as most of the stock had been examined.

Entrance was gained by breaking a window.

The store is a branch of the Lewis company of St. Paul.

$376 RECEIVED BY SEN. BORAH TO PAY BACK SINCLAIR

By PAUL R. MALLON

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, March 17.—(UP)—The morning mail brought $376 today to swell Senator Borah's fund for re-payment to Harry Sinclair of what Borah calls the republican party's "obligation of shame" for Sinclair's $160,000 campaign contribution.

Checks for $200 from former Senator William M. Calder of New York and $100 from Homer L. Loomis of Nebraska were the largest contributions of the day. The remaining $76 was in small cash amounts.

Borah's total contributions have not been tabulated, but it was estimated today that he has "pledged" amounting to a maximum of upwards of $12,000 and actual cash in hand of about $2,000. The pledges include Senators Cutting's and Goff's offers of from $1,000 to $5,000 each.

WALSH POSITIVE HICKMAN IS 'CRAZY AS LOON'

Rochester, Minn., March 17.—(UP)—Jerome K. Walsh, Kansas City, youthful defender of William E. Hickman, Los Angeles slayer of Marian Parker, is the guest of friends here. He said he was positive that Hickman is "crazy as a loon."

Walsh denied having said anything about the probability of bringing Hickman's body to Rochester for examination following his execution for the murder.

BATTLESHIP AND STEAMSHIP IN A NIGHT COLLISION

ACCIDENT HAPPENED JUST OFF
SAN PEDRO BREAK-WATER

HULLS OF BOTH CRAFTS ARE DAMAGED IN THE CRASH

San Pedro, Cal., March 17.—(UP)—The battleship Colorado and the steamship Ruth Alexander collided just off the San Pedro breakwater last night, causing damage to the hulls of both crafts.

According to reports, the Alexander, enroute to San Diego, ran into the Colorado, coming into anchor after fleet maneuvers.

A ten foot hole was torn in the starboard bow of the Colorado and the Ruth Alexander also suffered a damaged bow. In each instance the holes were above the water line.

After a cursory examination, the Ruth Alexander continued to San Diego and the Colorado came to anchor.

It was understood that a mix-up of signals had caused the collision.

600 BOY SCOUTS SEARCHING FOR ROBERT LANDIS

15 YEAR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT DISAPPEARED ON TUESDAY

MINNEAPOLIS BOY WAS ON A HUNTING TRIP WEST OF
CEDAR LAKE

Minneapolis, March 17.—(UP)—Six hundred Boy Scouts are searching for Robert Landis, 15-year-old high school student who disappeared Tuesday while on a hunting trip west of Cedar Lake.

The finding late yesterday of a clue led scoutmasters to organize the big drive. Thirty Scouts Friday searched the woods and discovered an empty cartridge box believed to have been carried by Landis.

The youth is a distant relative of Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball. His father and Judge Landis are cousins.

TRANSLUCENT WINDOW BLINDS SHOW HOLDUP; THREE BANDITS TAKEN

Chicago, March 17.—(UP)—Three bandits failed to take into consideration the fact that window blinds are translucent and their attempted machine gun holdup of a gambling resort was frustrated early today.

Sergeant Andrew Aiken and a squad of police passed by the Imperial building about 3 a. m. and noticed silhouettes of men standing with up-raised hands.

The squad entered the building and crashed in the door of the gambling room. The three bandits, Walter Tracy, Pat Inglish and Sam Newman, dropped their guns and attempted to lose themselves in the crowd of men they had lined up against the wall.

They were pointed out and arrested.

TO RECLAIM AREA, TO AGAIN BE FRUITFUL LAND

WORK OF BURYING BODIES OF DEAD IN DAM DISASTER CONTINUES

FARMERS RETURNING TO PROP-ERTIES, BUILD NEW HOMES
ON FOUNDATIONS

Los Angeles, March 17.—(UP)—Residents of the once beautiful Santa Clara river valley today began the work of turning the valley once more into a fruitful land, while the work of burying bodies of the dead in the St. Francis dam disaster continues.

Farmers were returning to their property today and in some cases new structures were forming on the foundations from which houses were washed when 12,000,000,000 gallons of water came rushing down the valley.

While conflicting reports were made as to the number dead, it was almost a certainty that the human toll would be about 300 lives and possibly more.

About 200 bodies have been identified and about 75 remain unidentified.

As the huge army of workmen continued clearing debris and tangled wreckage it was believed more bodies would be uncovered.

An inquest into the flood will be held Tuesday when an attempt will be made officially to place the blame for the dam breaking and the resultant catastrophe.

Col. Charles T. Leeds, former United States department of interior engineer, yesterday headed a committee of engineers employed by Los Angeles to examine the wrecked dam. No comment was forthcoming, however.

The matter of relief caused much controversy between Los Angeles city officials and the Red Cross, it was reported.

The Red Cross favored a national appeal for flood aid, while city officials state that Los Angeles would take care of the post-flood needs without outside aid, it was said.

C. C. McTeague, chairman of the flood relief committee at Santa Paula issued the first official statement on the amount of damage done to that town.

"We now are able to get a rough picture of the disaster caused by the breaking of the St. Francis dam and the problems resulting," his statement read.

"The city of Santa Paula is hardest hit and the burden has followed on the working people of the city, who can least afford to bear it."

"Our survey shows that 135 homes have been totally destroyed; 87 badly damaged; 51 partially damaged. The damage to the homes in the city is in round numbers $500,000 not including damage to farming property, streets, or public utilities within the city limits."

"The number of persons affected in the afflicted area approximately is 756. Probably 75 per cent of damage to homes in the entire area is within the city of Santa Paula, although, of course, there is a large property damage to farming lands, highways, utilities and railroads."

HICKMAN ENTERS SAN QUENTIN PENITENTIARY

San Quentin Penitentiary, Calif., March 17.—(UP)—William Edward Hickman entered San Quentin state penitentiary today to await his execution on April 27 for the kidnapping and murder of Marion Parker, Los Angeles school girl.

Hickman stepped through the prison gates three months to a day from the time he returned Marion's mutilated body to her father in Los Angeles and collected $1,500 in ransom money.

With him as he entered the prison was Welby Hunt, his youthful partner in crime. Hunt faced a life term in San Quentin for the slaying of Ivy Toms, in a drug store holdup at Los Angeles.

MINNEHAHA CREEK GETS REAL AMBITIOUS

SLUGGISH STREAM WITH FOR-MERLY TRICKLE OF WATER,
NOW A RIVER

SEVERAL SUMMER HOMES IN VICINITY SURROUNDED BY WATER

Minneapolis, March 17.—(UP)—Minnehaha Creek, ordinarily a sluggish stream with hardly more than a trickle of water passing along, has taken the proportions of a river and at points along its course, has gone out of the banks to overflow onto surrounding land.

The rise in the Minnehaha was said by old residents to be one of the greatest in several years. Several summer homes are surrounded by water.

Marshall, Minn., March 17.—Several blocks of the Marshall residential district are under water following a rapid rise yesterday in the Redwood river.

Although the river continued to rise during the night, it is expected to reach its crest today without doing any greater amount of damage.

SUB S-4 BROUGHT TO SURFACE TODAY

EIGHT BODIES TO BE REMOVED WHEN SUB REACHES
BOSTON

Boston, March 17.—(UP)—The submarine S-4 was brought to the surface today after lying on the bottom of the sea for three months.

The submersible appeared above the water level at 3:05 P. M. The Boston navy yard was informed by Capt. Ernest J. King, commander of the salvage force at Provincetown.

The salvage fleet continued working, blowing out the pontoons. Later naval officials announced the boat had been brought entirely to the surface and was ready to be towed to the Charlestown navy yard.

Eight bodies remaining in the submarine will not be removed until the submarine reaches Boston.

SPEED HOLMAN'S SECOND ATTEMPT AT LOOP RECORD

St. Paul, March 17.—(UP)—Charles "Speed" Holman, winner of the New York-Spokane air derby and manager of the Northwest Airways Corp., took off at the municipal airport here today in a second attempt to break the world's aerial looping record.

The record now is held by a French aviator who made 1,111 loops a month ago, breaking Holman's record of 1,093.

Fair calm weather favored Holman. It is expected that the stunt will take about four hours.

Holman carried about 100 gallons of gasoline, which he said would keep him in the air five and one-half hours. At Minneapolis a month ago when he did 1,093 loops, he carried 73 gallons of gasoline, remaining in the air four hours and 30 minutes.

In the first half hour, Holman completed 104 loops. He was making them at nearly the rate of four a minute, and staying at a height of about 3,000 feet. At that rate, it would take him to nearly 6 P. M. to break the record.

After being in the air one hour and 20 minutes the St. Paul aviator had completed 350 loops.

Holman had completed 556 loops at 2:16 P. M. two hours after taking off.

PRESIDENT IRISH FREE STATE SENDS HIS GREETINGS

REFERS TO HIS RECENT VISIT IN UNITED STATES AND CANADA

DE VALERA SPEAKS OF ECON-OMIC AIMS OF IRISH
REPUBLICANS

By WILLIAM T. COSGRAVE
(President Irish Free State)
(Copyright, 1928, by United Press)

Dublin, March 17.—On behalf of the Irish nation, I again am privileged to send greetings to the people of our race in America.

My recent visit to the United States and Canada brought vividly to my personal knowledge how deep and powerful is the love of Ireland implanted in Irish hearts in every frank of life in the great states of North America.

I heard with pride and satisfaction during my visits many tributes paid to those of my countrymen who, as citizens of the United States, have contributed to the development of that great continent — as dogged pioneers, as gallant soldiers, as enterprising men of affairs — and of their efforts on behalf of religion and culture.

It was with feelings of profound gratification that I learned of their citizenship and of the fact they were abiding loyally in the land of their adoption. It was all the more pleasing to have this testimony freely tendered by the citizens of the United States who were not of Irish blood.

We may well reflect on what might have been, had circumstances enabled Ireland to retain the services of her far-scattered children. Yet it has not all been loss and today when the old land has at last raised her flag among the nations and is at work building the Irish Free State, she is conscious of the loving hope and constant living faith with which her exiled children are watching.

The ancient homeland is a source of a nation's strength and its potentialities are not visionary, but the knowledge of faith and pride of her world-engirdling race is an additional incentive to us in our efforts to make our dreams of a prosperous and Irish Ireland come true.

By RAMON DE VALERA
(Irish Republican Leader)
(Copyright, 1928, by United Press)

Dublin, March 17.—To provide employment so that it may no longer be necessary for our young people to emigrate is perhaps our most pressing problem in Ireland today.

The dispersion of our people, of which almost universal celebration of St. Patrick's Day is such evidence, still is going on.

About 300,000 of our young adults, have left our country since the British imposed their so-called treaty in December, 1921, and the latest census shows that a greater percentage of people who were born in Ireland live in exile than that of any other country.

The percentage in the case of Ireland is 30.5; that in the case of Norway, which comes next, 14.8.

There is but one solution to the problem—we must not only organize and develop our agriculture on most modern lines, remembering that it is always likely to remain our chief industry, but we must build up side by side with it all other industries which are required to supply our needs.

We must not only provide substantially all our own food, but we must organize and equip factories to provide ourselves with boots, clothing, shelter and a thousand other things we daily need and use—importing nothing we can produce ourselves.

This is the fundamental aim of the economic policy of the Irish republicans. It is the task to which the Fianna Fail will set itself immediately it comes into power.

Irish exiles in every part of the world, remembering how they, themselves, were forced to leave the homeland, will sympathize with us when we undertake this task and wish us well.

Chicago—When Dr. Effie M. Kilbride learned in court her divorce petition was to be granted she immediately applied a stethoscope to her heart "just to see what effect the news would have."

The Republicans of Crow Wing county, Minnesota, in convention assembled, hereby resolve that we reaffirm our adherence to the principles of the party of Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley.

We believe in the adequate protection of American industries, thus assuring the workers of our country wages sufficient to maintain the American standard of living.

We urge the early enactment of such laws as will place agriculture, the basic industry of the country, on an equal basis with that of other industries in the nation.

We feel that the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway will be of great material benefit for the future prosperity of the middle west and of the United States and Canada and would urgently recommend the early completion of the project.

We recognize the ability and honesty of Herbert Hoover and appreciate his assistance to this part of the state.

We appreciate the assistance of the federal government in aiding in the commercial development of the low grade and manganiferous ore deposits in our county.

We especially commend the efforts of Congressman Harold Knutson in his efforts for the upbuilding and development of the sixth district.

We pledge our best efforts for the success of the Grand Old Party in the coming elections.

We respectfully recommend the election of Daisy A. Thabes as a presidential elector for the sixth district.

After D. B. McAlpine finished reading the resolutions, objection was made by some of the delegates to mentioning Hoover in the resolution, and several speakers were heard pro and con.

By vote of 37 to 28 the paragraph relating to mentioning Hoover was stricken out.

The convention adjourned at 3:20 P. M., taking no action on instructing delegates. Crow Wing county's delegates are uninstructed.

Resolutions

These resolutions were presented by the resolution committee:

"The Republicans of Crow Wing county, Minnesota, in convention assembled, hereby resolve that we reaffirm our adherence to the principles of the party of Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley."

We believe in the adequate protection of American industries, thus assuring the workers of our country wages sufficient to maintain the American standard of living.

We urge the early enactment of such laws as will place agriculture, the basic industry of the country, on an equal basis with that of other industries in the nation.

We feel that the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway will be of great material benefit for the future prosperity of the middle west and of the United States and Canada and would urgently recommend the early completion of the project.

We recognize the ability and honesty of Herbert Hoover and appreciate his assistance to this part of the state.

We appreciate the assistance of the federal government in aiding in the commercial development of the low grade and manganese ore deposits in our county.

We especially commend the efforts of Congressman Harold Knutson in his efforts for the upbuilding and development of the sixth district.

We pledge our best efforts for the success of the Grand Old Party in the coming elections.

We respectfully recommend the election of Daisy A. Thabes as a presidential elector for the sixth district.

After D. B. McAlpine finished reading the resolutions, objection was made by some of the delegates to mentioning Hoover in the resolution, and several speakers were heard pro and con.

By vote of 37 to 28 the paragraph relating to mentioning Hoover was stricken out.

The convention adjourned at 3:20 P. M., taking no action on instructing delegates. Crow Wing county's delegates are uninstructed.

LOCALS RETURN FROM ARROWHEAD PAROCHIAL MEET

ST. FRANCIS TEAM DEFEATS ST. MARY'S, DULUTH, 21 TO 8 LAST NIGHT

LOSE TWO PREVIOUS GAMES TO ASSUMPTIONS, HIBBING; TEN BOYS MAKE TRIP

Ten Brainerd boys between the ages of 12 and 15 years, students in the seventh and eighth grades of the St. Francis school, returned today from Duluth, where they competed in the second annual Arrowhead Parochial basketball tournament at the Duluth Cathedral, winning one game from the St. Mary's team of Duluth and losing their other two entries to Assumption, of Hibbing, by the counts of 18 to 5 and 14 to 7 respectively.

Herman Buscher, manager, and John Gabiou, coach, accompanied the team on the trip. They had with short notice picked the representative team and rounded them into shape a few days previous to the tourney.

Bretto, towering center for the Assumption quint, proved the downfall of the local quint in the two opening games Wednesday and Thursday. He accounted for five field goals in the first game and four field goals and four free throws in the second game.

Ray Wise, Joe Gabiou and White starred for the Brainerd team in the initial game while Bretto and Ryan were outstanding for the Assumptions.

Wednesday evening's box score follows:

Charlie Grimm Light-Hearted

BACK in 1916 Connie Mack beckoned with his long, lean forefinger and called a rookie by the name of Grimm from out of the western bush to play first base for him. The lean leader did not give the lean rookie any trial at all. He just farmed him out a couple of years and he caught on with Durham of the Carolina league. But he played so well there that he was signed by the St. Louis Nationals in 1918. He fielded well enough for the Cards, but his hitting was so light (.220) that he was promptly released to Little Rock. His fielding flashed across the Southern league circuit and a year and a half later he was sold to the Pirates for the reported price of $3,500.

For five years Grimm played first base for Dreyfuss, and always fielded brilliantly and batted lightly except in 1923, when he hit for .345. Really, his fielding was so fine that it balanced his light hitting. Grimm was light-hearted and gay, thus belying his name. It has been said often that he laughed the Pirates out of a pennant in 1924. Be that as it may, he was traded the next winter to Chicago in the deal that brought Nelhaus and Grantham to Pittsburgh. The change set the merry first baseman to thinking and he settled down and played all he knew for the Cubs. And he knew a lot.

A finished first baseman is Grimm. Never quite up to the Chase or Kelly standard, but a whale of a fellow around the first sack. Fast, graceful, supple, sure, he has always ranked one-two-three in his league. Last season he hit for the most respectable mark of .311, and he did a lot of timely hitting for the Cubs in the midsummer pennant drive. McCarthy counts on Grimm as the lone veteran to steady his infield this year. Grimm was born in St. Louis twenty-nine years ago.

BOUT MAY BE HELD IN NEW YORK STATE

CHAMPION, HOWEVER, MUST SELECT ONE OF OUTSTANDING HEAVYWEIGHTS

WHICH HE WILL UNDOUBTEDLY DO FOR SAKE OF THE BOX OFFICE

New York, March 17.—(U.P.)—Gene Tunney may select his own opponent for the next defense of his title and the New York Athletic Commission will sanction the bout in this state.

The champion must, however, select one of the outstanding heavyweights, as he undoubtedly will for the sake of the box office.

Jack Sharkey of Boston is recognized as challenger No. 1 by the Heeneys of New Zealand as challenger No. 2.

Despite Sharkey's draw with Heeneys and his defeat by Johnny Risko, the Bostonian is favored by the New York body for the chance at Tunney. The champion has announced from Miami Beach, Fla., where he has started light training, that he favors Heeneys.

Paulino Uzcudun, Jack Delaney and Johnny Risko are also considered suitable opponents for Tunney by the New York commission.

Tommy Loughran, the light heavy weight champion, was blackballed as a possible opponent for Tunney unless he abdicates his 175-pound throne.

Although Loughran plans to defend his title twice this year and has no intention of giving up his 175-pound championship until he is convinced that Jack Delaney, former title-holder, will not consent to a match with him, he may be the man to meet Tunney in December.

Stucco in History

In the history of building, stone is naturally so old as to antedate civilization itself. But then stucco is, not exactly youthful. We are told that the art of stucco work had reached its perfection in Greece more than four centuries before Christ. And there are detailed instructions extant which tell how to make stucco, written by the great Roman architect, Vitruvius, somewhere around 16 B. C.

Extra Concession

A mother was teaching her two little girls the Lord's prayer. Slowly she said: "Give us this day our daily bread." Here one of them paused and hesitated to repeat, then looked up and said fervently: "And some jam, too, huh, mamma?"—Indianapolis News.

Tramp as Man of Leisure

A tramp is the American equivalent for the English "sturdy beggar." He is commonly defined as an able-bodied man without visible means of support, wandering aimlessly, begging and refusing work, kindling fires and camping.

Picture Arrangement

Aids Interior Beauty

How to hang a picture so that it will be in harmony with the walls and furniture of a room is an important thing to know. The entire room should "compose" well, that is, it should give a well-balanced appearance in the matter of placing furniture and wall decoration.

It is a fact that very few people who hang pictures on the walls of their homes realize the importance of the correct relationship between picture and furniture. Often a large picture is hung over a small piece of furniture, in which case there is an unconscious feeling that the small stand or table beneath that large picture is in imminent danger of being crushed, should the picture ever fall. Or again, over a large davenport, for instance, is hung a small picture that is completely lost. Such an arrangement looks quite as absurd to the discerning person as does a tiny little round hat perched on the head of a great stout man.

As a general rule, it might be said that the width of the picture should be about one-half or two-thirds of the width of the piece of furniture. That is, the ordinary davenport is about six feet in length, or as placed against the wall, we might say "width." The picture should be about three feet in width to be in correct proportion to the davenport.

The average desk is about three feet across the back. The picture that is hung above it should surely be 18 inches by 12 inches, to appear well proportioned in relation to the desk. Tall candlesticks on either side of the desk will fill in the extra space on each side.

Before deciding on certain pictures for certain wall space, it is well to see if they are appropriate, in size, for the wall space, as well as in color and subject.

Picture dealers are now carrying various sizes of beautiful reproductions of the finest orientals, in color, in sepia, and in black-and-white. These are found at very reasonable prices.

Home Comfort

In these modern times the measure of a home's comfort is largely that of the extent to which it is equipped with modern conveniences and labor-saving devices. Convenience and labor saving are both in large part a matter of electrical service.

BASKETBALL COACHING SCHOOL NEAR CITY

AT CAMP LINCOLN FOR BOYS FOR A TEN-DAY PERIOD

E. S. DEAN, NOTED COACH OF INDIANA UNIVERSITY, TO CONDUCT SCHOOL

SPECIAL CLASS WORK IS PROVIDED FOR HIGH SCHOOL AND COLLEGE PLAYERS

E. S. Dean, football and baseball coach at Indiana University, will conduct a special 10-day basketball coaching school August 17th to 27th at Camp Lincoln for Boys, 15 miles north of Brainerd, according to notice received by the Dispatch from R. F. D. Cote, director of the boys' camp.

Lectures and discussions will be demonstrated and put into practice on the two cement courts at the camp. Offensive basketball will be stressed.

Special class work and extra demonstration periods will be given for high school and college players. It is believed many coaches will encourage their high school and college players to enroll for the course.

Camp Lincoln affords excellent fishing with free use of boats, canoes, sailboats, water toboggan slide, rifle range, etc.

All communications regarding the basketball coaching school should be addressed to Coach E. S. Dean, Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana.

Camp Lincoln for Boys opens its season in June, the period extending from June 22 to August 17. It is a camp for boys from ages 8 to 16 years.

Camp Lincoln boys associate with and receive instruction from such staffmen as Coach E. S. Dean; Herbert W. Joesting, Minnesota football captain and twice All-American fullback 1926-1927; Louis G. Wilke, director of athletics, Phillips University, Enid, Oklahoma; Jack Barnes and Chuck Everett of Drake University; J. Braselton, Beaumont, Texas, Y. M. C. A.

THE ROOKIE'S LAMENT

I'm packin' up my toothbrush and my other rubber collars, And I've got a one-way ticket to the place where I was born. My salaried ain't goin' 'tbe no seven thousand dollars, But what they pay for pitchin' hay and battin' home the corn.

Next week, some 16 managers of 16 major league ball clubs will begin to whet their pruning knives for some major operations upon their squads. Many a rookie sleeps restlessly these nights and casts a covert eye at his manager at meal times. None of the rookies of 1928 has as yet been reported to have lost his appetite, but it is going a bit far to expect anything to cause a rookie to do that.

Among the interesting rookies of 1928 is Tranca Waner, another of the famous "poison" family now playing ball for the Pittsburgh Pirates. Tranca is a cousin of Paul "Big Poison" Waner and Lloyd "Little Poison" Waner, the brothers who did so much to win a pennant for Barney Dreyfuss' club in 1927.

If "Middle Sized Poison" lives up to the family reputation, the Pirates are going to take a lot of stopping this year. An entire outfield from one family would be a novelty in baseball, as far, at least, as the major league clubs are concerned.

Tranca might be made into a Pittsburgh outfielder just for advertising purposes.

Another interesting rookie is Andy Cohen, John J. McGraw's ideal, a Jewish ball-player who may become a star.

McGraw expects Cohen to rival Babe Ruth as an attraction, especially among the customers from the Bronx.

The shoes young Mr. Cohen has to fill were occupied last season by Mr. Rogers Hornsby, a fairly good second baseman now reported to be with the Boston Braves.

"Oy-oy!" remarked young Andy Cohen, "I wish I knew where I was goin'." "I'll fill the shoes once worn by Rogers." "Or else get traded to the Dodgers."

Ty Cobb has joined the Athletics and now it remains to be seen how he and Tris Speaker fit into one and the same outfield. Rivals for a score of years of service in the major leagues, the veterans come to the end of their careers side by side under Connie Mack, who has been at the business of baseball even longer than they.

The McGillicuddy experiment, no relation to that of Voronoff, should be one of the most interesting of the 1928 season.

The Athletics have a chance to crowd past the New York Yankees into the world's series, and what a spectacle it would be to see Tris and Ty in action in the big show!

Cobb hasn't been in a world series for 19 years, while Speaker made the grade with his Cleveland Indians in 1920.

TUNNEY MAY CHOOSE OPPONENT

The St. Louis Browns announced the sale of Chester Falk, left-handed pitcher, to Montreal, of the International league.

The heavyweight champions since John L. Sullivan have been Corbett, Fitzsimmons, Jeffries, Burns, Johnson, Willard, Dempsey and Tunney.

Michigan will open its 1928 baseball season by playing the University of Cincinnati at Cincinnati, April 7. Twenty-seven games have been booked.

Benny Friedman, former Michigan all-American, impressed critics on the Pacific coast very forcibly by his work in pro games against Red Grange and George Wilson.

Everett Scott, former major league shortstop, who holds an American league record for having played in 1,307 consecutive games, has signed with the Reading Internationals.

Stanislav Zbyszko, veteran wrestler, has made $1,000,000 out of the mat game and last year paid the largest income tax of any athlete in the country. He has wrestled in every country where the sport is known.

Henry Klein of Baltimore, one of the best basket ball officials in the East, holds the record in Maryland for consecutive shots from the foul line. While playing for the Markham club he scored 20 out of 21 tries.

Harry S. German, fifty-four, former hurler for the Toledo baseball club and veteran of 26 baseball seasons, was honored by fellow townsmen at his home in Northville, a Detroit suburb. Through Gov. Fred Green he was presented with a medal for having played ball there 20 years and training potential Northville diamond stars. German began his professional career with Toledo in 1902.

LOCALS RETURN FROM ARROWHEAD PAROCHIAL MEET

ST. FRANCIS TEAM DEFEATS ST. MARY'S, DULUTH, 21 TO 8 LAST NIGHT

LOSE TWO PREVIOUS GAMES TO ASSUMPTIONS, HIBBING; TEN BOYS MAKE TRIP

Ten Brainerd boys between the ages of 12 and 15 years, students in the seventh and eighth grades of the St. Francis school, returned today from Duluth, where they competed in the second annual Arrowhead Parochial basketball tournament at the Duluth Cathedral, winning one game from the St. Mary's team of Duluth and losing their other two entries to Assumption, of Hibbing, by the counts of 18 to 5 and 14 to 7 respectively.

Herman Buscher, manager, and John Gabiou, coach, accompanied the team on the trip. They had with short notice picked the representative team and rounded them into shape a few days previous to the tourney.

Bretto, towering center for the Assumption quint, proved the downfall of the local quint in the two opening games Wednesday and Thursday. He accounted for five field goals in the first game and four field goals and four free throws in the second game.

Ray Wise, Joe Gabiou and White starred for the Brainerd team in the initial game while Bretto and Ryan were outstanding for the Assumptions.

Wednesday evening's box score follows:

Brainerd showed better form in their second game but still were unable to check the shooting of the tall Bretto. Bush and Wise were credited with the two most spectacular shots of the tournament, Bush sinking a long one from past center that dropped in without touching the rim, and Wise dropping one as the gun barked for the close.

WHY THE IRISH LOVE ST. PATRICK

On this glad day devoted to the memory of St. Patrick, the editor of the St. Cloud Journal-Press has dug up a new angle concerning the many lovable qualities of the patron saint of Ireland. James Stephens in the New York Times tells of an Irish tradition, that may be responsible for the great pride and veneration the Irish have in St. Patrick and why he is their beloved patron saint.

It starts with St. Brigid (pronounced Breed) and the maternal name giver of the long line of Bridgets since, who was walking from village to village seeking shelter, when finally she came to a stable, where a woman was in the agonies of child birth. St. Brigid rendered helpful service and the Child was wapped in her cloak, and thus she became the foster mother of the Christ Child. Some 450 years later came St. Patrick, and after many deeds of righteousness in addition to driving the snakes out of the Emerald Isle, he ascended to the spirit land. There he met St. Brigid, and their chief topic of conversation was the beauties of Ireland, but in loyalty to their present habitation reluctantly conceded that Heaven was just a bit prettier than Ireland, which was some concession.

We let James Stephens tell the rest of the story:

Their walk had been a long one, and, immersed in (as Sean O'Casey would say) darling memories, they had reached a place which the saints care but rarely to visit. They had come to the Seat of Judgment.

There the Judge sat, vaster than Vastness, blacker than Blackness; immovable, unescapable, terrific.

St. Brigid did not dislike Rhadamanthus, for that would be a sin. But she did not like him, for he had never been to Ireland nor even had he expressed a desire to go there. As her gaze fell on him and off him a terrible thought caused her to look at him again—at his blank, black vastness, at his super-solid solidity. She saw his great hand move this way and yon as the black lightning, he scrutinized this and that being who groveled and screamed at his awful brow.

"He," said St. Brigid, and she was astounded as she said it, "he would send even an Irishman to hell!"

"He would," said St. Patrick, but even as he said it he went fey with horror, for the thought had never before struck him.

The Judge looked toward them.

"I will not have it so," said St. Brigid, and she spoke the words, as it were, into that all-sighted, implacable eye.

She drew St. Patrick with her, away.

They went to her Foster Child and she obtained from Him, who loved her, this concession—that every person who came from Ireland should be judged by St. Patrick himself and not by Rhadamanthus.

"You will be very careful," she said to St. Patrick. "Surely, I will," the great saint answered.

"But if," said St. Brigid, and the very heart within her was shocked, "but if a bad Irishman is brought before you—"

"I'll convert him," said St. Patrick.

'Tis but one of the reasons why Irishmen, of whatever religious or political complexion, pledge St. Patrick when his day comes round and why they may all be fearless of the world to come.

But I, an apprentice in the craft that Patrick loved and of which he was the patron, am desolated to think that perhaps St. Brigid is not getting her share of the praise.

HONOR MEMORY OF THORP

MRS. SARAH THORP HEALD informs the Dispatch that the daughters of the late Colonel Freeman Thorp have received a request from David Flynn, architect of the Capitol, Washington, D. C., for a photograph of the noted portrait painter.

Mr. Flynn writes: "In order to complete this collection of those who have furnished paintings or sculpture for the Capitol building, it seems necessary that there should be placed on file in this office a photograph of Colonel Freeman Thorp, who is represented by seven paintings in the Capitol building."

The seven paintings are these: Presidents Lincoln and Cleveland, former Speakers of the House Schuyler Colfax, Langdon Cheves, T. B. Reed, Joseph Cannon and D. B. Henderson.

BOOMING TOURIST SEASON FORECAST

A BOOMING tourist season is forecast for the Brainerd Lake Region. With Brainerd as the gateway and supply point, the Dispatch expects to see a steady stream start the middle of May and continue past September.

The conventions attracted to Brainerd and the Lake Region will do much to spread the merits of our lake country and make firm friends who will repeat their visits here.

Our roads, our lakes, resorts and cottages, our boating and fishing, our many sources of recreation and amusement are of the highest type and conducive to re-creating the individual. Any one who spends his season of vacation in our lake region, goes home a new individual.

"KIDDING" OUR DAVE

ON a recent visit to Washington Governor Christianson invited the president to spend his vacation next year in Minnesota, and the president is said to have placed Minnesota on his list of vacation possibilities. An official invitation will be sent him later. Here is another opportunity for Head-Cruiser Dave Schrader to get into the limelight. He might renew his offer to become Cal's guide on his prospective frisk through the Ten Thousand Lakes region.—Aitkin Republican.

LITTLE FALLS has elected a boy mayor and he will take hold with all the enthusiasm of youth. The sticker campaign launched late in the day against the winning candidate failed to record many votes.

ICY roads continue to call for caution on the part of all drivers. It is a very difficult matter to halt a car suddenly when traveling high speed on icy roads. Brakes and chains fail to hold.

SPRING may be just around the corner, but Old Man Winter continues to hold down a seat in the parlor.

Mme. Paul Dubonnet, who as Jean Nash was called "the world's best dressed woman," wears it successfully. Lace capes which are in reality demi-holeros meant to be worn over one shoulder or both, are much seen with lace dresses, usually bound with satin.

WHY THE IRISH LOVE ST. PATRICK

ON this glad day devoted to the memory of St. Patrick, the editor of the St. Cloud Journal-Press has dug up a new angle concerning the many lovable qualities of the patron saint of Ireland. James Stephens in the New York Times tells of an Irish tradition, that may be responsible for the great pride and veneration the Irish have in St. Patrick and why he is their beloved patron saint.

It starts with St. Brigid (pronounced Breed) and the maternal name giver of the long line of Bridgets since, who was walking from village to village seeking shelter, when finally she came to a stable, where a woman was in the agonies of child birth. St. Brigid rendered helpful service and the Child was wapped in her cloak, and thus she became the foster mother of the Christ Child.

Some 450 years later came St. Patrick, and after many deeds of righteousness in addition to driving the snakes out of the Emerald Isle, he ascended to the spirit land. There he met St. Brigid, and their chief topic of conversation was the beauties of Ireland, but in loyalty to their present habitation reluctantly conceded that Heaven was just a bit prettier than Ireland, which was some concession.

We let James Stephens tell the rest of the story:

Their walk had been a long one, and, immersed in (as Sean O'Casey would say) darling memories, they had reached a place which the saints care but rarely to visit. They had come to the Seat of Judgment.

There the Judge sat, vaster than Vastness, blacker than Blackness; immovable, unescapable, terrific.

St. Brigid did not dislike Rhamadhanus, for that would be a sin. But she did not like him, for he had never been to Ireland nor even had he expressed a desire to go there. As her gaze fell on him and off him a terrible thought caused her to look at him again—at his blank, black vastness, at his super-solid solidity. She saw his great hand move this way and yon as the black lightning, he scrutinized this and that being who groveled and screamed at his awful brow.

"He," said St. Brigid, and she was astounded as she said it, "he would send even an Irishman to hell!"

"He would," said St. Patrick, but even as he said it he went fey with horror, for the thought had never before struck him.

The Judge looked toward them.

"I will not have it so," said St. Brigid, and she spoke the words, as it were, into that all-sighted, implacable eye.

She drew St. Patrick with her, away.

They went to her Foster Child and she obtained from Him, who loved her, this concession—that every person who came from Ireland should be judged by St. Patrick himself and not by Rhamadhanus.

"You will be very careful," she said to St. Patrick.

"Surely, I will," the great saint answered.

"But if," said St. Brigid, and the very heart within her was shocked, "but if a bad Irishman is brought before you—"

"I'll convert him," said St. Patrick.

* * * * *

'Tis but one of the reasons why Irishmen, of whatever religious or political complexion, pledge St. Patrick when his day comes round and why they may all be fearless of the world to come.

But I, an apprentice in the craft that Patrick loved and of which he was the patron, am desolated to think that perhaps St. Brigid is not getting her share of the praise.

J. A McCOLL RECALLS EARLY DAYS HERE

Tells of Impressions on Arriving in City Forty-Seven Years Ago Friday

TOWN HAD FEW BUILDINGS

Jackpine Trees Covered Lots Now Occupied by Bank, Post Office, Theatre

A town of jackpines dotted here and there with a general store, many saloons and lumber headquarters offices, to a city of thriving business establishments, fine homes, paved streets, and beautiful parks, is the contrasting elements of Brainerd painted by J. A. McColl, veteran citizen as he recalled the time 47 years ago yesterday, his first day in Brainerd.

"I had to ask the conductor as the train came to a stop where Brainerd was and I was instructed that I would find it on the other side of the tracks. The town was hid from view by a number of jackpines," said Mr. McColl as he recalled his experiences when he arrived in Brainerd for the first time.

"In coming through from Winnipeg there was about two foot of snow on the level the entire distance and passenger trains were at a standstill, we coming into Brainerd on a freight train carrying food and clothing.

"About the only buildings still standing that were here at that time are the old 'Last Turn Saloon' on the corner of Front and Fourth streets; the one now occupied by Hewitt's cafe which was a carpenter shop, and the Home Bakery building which was occupied by a saloon. The lots now occupied by the First National bank building had many large Norway and white pine trees on them and the present post office site was out in the heavy wooded territory. Of course there were no sidewalks or street improvements, the streets being merely roads cut through the woods with enough of the stumps removed to make them passable.

"Shortly after my arrival the jackpines on the lots now occupied by the Park theatre and Y. M. C. A. were cut, the men using Front street to burn the slashings and the wood was piled in the street," said Mr. McColl.

Mr. McColl opened a photograph studio in a building on the corner of Front and Fifth streets, later selling the studio and entering the confectionery and novelty business. He has been in business continually for 47 years, being undoubtedly Brainerd's oldest business man.

BOY SCOUTS BUILD 200 BIRD HOUSES

Thirty Boys Are Assembling and Decorating Houses in Former Store Site Today

WINDOW RESEMBLES FACTORY

Funds to Purchase Material Raised by Boys Work Committee, Rotary Club

A shop window converted into a workshop resembling a factory was in evidence today in the former location of the Northern Home Furnishing Co. as 30 Boy Scouts of Brainerd worked ardently assembling bird-houses from cutout panels.

It was a work that attracted not only the interest of the boys but passersby on the street.

As house after house was assembled and artistically decorated with bright colored paints they were neatly arranged in rows, later to be distributed to local householders interested in the care and preservation of the summer visitors from the southland. The plan for distribution will soon be outlined, according to B. Perry Newton, scout executive of the Crow Wing area council who announced today that this means was being taken to bring before the public the necessity of caring for the birds, also to demonstrate the boy scout movement which includes the protection of birds and also as a decorative means for the city of Brainerd.

Funds to purchase the material for the construction of the 200 bird houses were supplied by the Boys Work Committee of the Rotary club. There are three different types of houses, the small one for wrens, the large closed one for blue birds and the open one for robins.

The work by the scouts further epitomizes their slogan "to do a good turn daily."

MUSIC HEADLINES MONDAY FEATURES

Brainerd Concert Orchestra, Choral Club, Swedish Glee Club, Troubadours to Appear

Will be Presented Under Auspices of Eastern Star Social Club at Methodist Church

On Monday evening, March 19, the Ladies' Choral club will present part of the program to be given at the Methodist church, under the auspices of the Eastern Star Social club at 8:15 P. M. The club needs no introduction to Brainerd's music circle, as it has appeared at various programs for the last three years.

The Choral will sing the Rumanian Wedding Song, by Reginald de Koven, with orchestral accompaniment and baritone solo. The music of this song reminds one, with its weird harmonies, of the rhythms of bands of gypsies. The story told is of a Rumanian peasant, who, on the eve of his marriage, lost his beloved in the "gray-green sobbing river"—the river that answers never to the cry of the lover left desolate. Yet he is pledged to her through eternity.

In Rumania, when a young man goes to call upon his sweetheart, he takes an orchestra with him to tell his story in song. The orchestration with the Wedding Song is to represent this custom—yet here the lover laments at the river for his lost sweetheart.

The baritone solo, which frequently becomes an obligato, adds to this music picture, and will be sung by Al Mraz, a special favorite among Brainerd soloists.

The personnel of the Choral club is as follows:

Director—Eddie Drexler.

Accompanist—Bessie St. John Kuntzen.

DEACON FINDS LOVE IN CONCERT STAGE

Leading Baritone With Boston Grand Opera Company to Appear in Recital

HERE TOMORROW P. M.

Five Groups Feature Program Presented Under Auspices of Musical Club

Stanley Deacon, the baritone who appears in a recital tomorrow afternoon at the new Elks' hall under auspices of the Brainerd Musical club, is said to have one of the largest operatic repertoires of any baritone now before the public. It includes the baritone roles of 25 grand operas, and in addition those of 10 light operas.

The bulk of his operatic experience has been with the Boston Grand Opera Company and the Century Company of New York. He has been heard in opera in Chicago, however; has toured with other companies, and since being called to the leadership of the opera department of the Horner Institute—Kansas City Conservatory in Kansas City, Mo., he has appeared numerous times as guest baritone with the Kansas City Civic Grand Opera Company.

But his real love is the concert stage, because, as he says, it is the most difficult of all places a singer may find himself.

"In opera there is the orchestra, the costume, the presence of dozens of other persons to protect a man," he says. "Even in oratorio there is a chorus and an orchestra, each of which furnishes contrast and thus simplifies the problem of the soloists."

"But in recital there is nothing whatever, excepting a piano, to support one! There are no scenic effects; the lights are bright; the audience, in a sense, sits out front and 'dares' you to do your best. It is a problem that would arouse the fighting blood of anyone whose veins contain it. The inflection of the voice or the turning of a phrase must suggest that emotion that one may fall in a faint to depict when singing opera."

That's why recitals are fascinating—they're difficult.

J. A. McCOLL RECALLS EARLY DAYS HERE

Tells of Impressions on Arriving in City Forty-Seven Years Ago Friday

TOWN HAD FEW BUILDINGS

Jackpine Trees Covered Lots Now Occupied by Bank, Post Office, Theatre

A town of jackpines dotted here and there with a general store, many saloons and lumber headquarter offices, to a city of thriving business establishments, fine homes, paved streets, and beautiful parks, is the contrasting elements of Brainerd painted by J. A. McColl, veteran citizen as he recalled the time 47 years ago yesterday, his first day in Brainerd.

"I had to ask the conductor as the train came to a stop where Brainerd was and I was instructed that I would find it on the other side of the tracks. The town was hid from view by a number of jackpines," said Mr. McColl as he recalled his experiences when he arrived in Brainerd for the first time.

"In coming through from Winnipeg there was about two foot of snow on the level the entire distance and passenger trains were at a standstill, we coming into Brainerd on a freight train carrying food and clothing.

"About the only buildings still standing that were here at that time are the old 'Last Turn Saloon' on the corner of Front and Fourth streets; the one now occupied by Hewitt's cafe which was a carpenter shop, and the Home Bakery building which was occupied by a saloon. The lots now occupied by the First National bank building had many large Norway and white pine trees on them and the present post office site was out in the heavy wooded territory. Of course there were no sidewalks or street improvements, the streets being merely roads cut through the woods with enough of the stumps removed to make them passable.

"Shortly after my arrival the jackpines on the lots now occupied by the Park theatre and Y. M. C. A. were cut, the men using Front street to burn the slashings and the wood was piled in the street," said Mr. McColl.

Mr. McColl opened a photograph studio in a building on the corner of Front and Fifth streets, later selling the studio and entering the confectionery and novelty business. He has been in business continually for 47 years, being undoubtedly Brainerd's oldest business man.

BOY SCOUTS BUILD 200 BIRD HOUSES

Thirty Boys Are Assembling and Decorating Houses in Former Store Site Today

WINDOW RESEMBLES FACTORY

Funds to Purchase Material Raised by Boys Work Committee, Rotary Club

A shop window converted into a workshop resembling a factory was in evidence today in the former location of the Northern Home Furnishing Co. as 30 Boy Scouts of Brainerd worked ardently assembling bird-houses from cutout panels.

It was a work that attracted not only the interest of the boys but passersby on the street.

As house after house was assembled and artistically decorated with bright colored paints they were neatly arranged in rows, later to be distributed to local householders interested in the care and preservation of the summer visitors from the southland. The plan for distribution will soon be outlined, according to B. Perry Newton, scout executive of the Crow Wing area council who announced today that this means was being taken to bring before the public the necessity of caring for the birds, also to demonstrate the boy scout movement which includes the protection of birds and also as a decorative means for the city of Brainerd.

Funds to purchase the material for the construction of the 200 bird houses were supplied by the Boys Work Committee of the Rotary Club. There are three different types of houses, the small one for wrens, the large closed one for blue birds and the open one for robins.

The work by the scouts further epitomizes their slogan "to do a good turn daily."

MUSIC HEADLINES MONDAY FEATURES

Brainerd Concert Orchestra, Choral Club, Swedish Glee Club, Troubadors to Appear

Will be Presented Under Auspices of Eastern Star Social Club at Methodist Church

On Monday evening, March 19, the Ladies' Choral club will present part of the program to be given at the Methodist church, under the auspices of the Eastern Star Social club at 8:15 P. M. The club needs no introduction to Brainerd's music circle, as it has appeared at various programs for the last three years.

The Choral will sing the Roumanian Wedding Song, by Reginald de Koven, with orchestral accompaniment and baritone solo. The music of this song reminds one, with its weird harmonies, of the rhythms of bands of gypsies. The story told is of a Roumanian peasant, who, on the eve of his marriage, lost his beloved in the "gray-green sobbing river"—the river that answers never to the cry of the lover left desolated. Yet he is pledged to her through eternity.

In Roumania, when a young man goes to call upon his sweetheart, he takes an orchestra with him to tell his story in song. The orchestration with the Wedding Song is to represent this custom—yet here the lover laments at the river for his lost sweetheart.

The baritone solo, which frequently becomes an obligato, adds to this music picture, and will be sung by Al Mraz, a special favorite among Brainerd soloists.

The personnel of the Choral club is as follows:

Director—Effie Drexler.
Accompanist—Bessie St. John Kuntzen.

"THE GAY RETREAT"
WILLIAM FOX ATTRACTION

Here is a scene from Fox Films comedy drama, "The Gay Retreat," which shows at the Lyceum Sunday one day only. And, after studying the winsome beauty of Judy King, who plays the Red Cross Nurse, it is easy to understand why so many of the boys came back from "over there" to their American sweethearts over here, despite the vaunted beauty of the French girls.

The official film record of Lindbergh's new aviation triumphs will also be shown on Sunday and Monday. This is in three reels.

Rin-Tin-Tin at Lyceum Tonight
"While London Sleeps" is the intriguing title of Rin-Tin-Tin's latest starring vehicle for Warner Bros. tonight, shows at the Lyceum theatre tonight. Walter Morosco, who wrote the story about the struggle of Scotland Yard with Limehouse, the underworld of London, also directed the picture.

Color and Trim Play
Part in Home Beauty

In any decorative scheme, don't forget to consider the color of the wood work.

When the wood used for window and door trim is oak, cypress, maple or birch or any wood with a beautiful grain, a waterproof varnish will give luster and bring out the grain. Woods vary in shade from light to dark brown or red. The color scheme of the room should be kept in similar tones or warm colors. Contrasting colors can then be used in some of the furnishings to give the room animation.

Light woodwork is very fashionable. And there are excellent varnish stains and enamels on the market that will give just the shade or tint in the woodwork that the color scheme of the room demands.

Varnish stains color the wood and let the grain show through. Enamels give a solid coat of color that is rich and satiny in its texture. The range of colors is wide and manufacturers give explicit directions for securing any tint or shade desired. Of course the most satisfactory finishes are absolutely waterproof and can be washed without injury to gloss or color.

X. Y. Z.
Dorothy Lee has a sweet tooth and the family always spell candy when mentioning the coveted sweets in her presence. A neighbor who is very fond of the four-year-old gave her a piece of candy. She came rushing to show mother, saying: "Mrs. Cartar gave me some X. Y. Z."

writing that might be called superfluous. Curves are to be found in the writing of one who carries the heart on the sleeve. This writer is weak, one who makes a t bar, the curves down to right resembling a capital P.

When the lower half of the letter f is brought up to the left and crosses the mainstroke without wrapping around or tying back then it may be assumed that the writer is careless in placing affections and is rather easily influenced.

When a "tossed in" and the writing has the appearance of being slurred, then we find the writer who says pretty things to any one at hand and likes to be the center of attraction.

Hair Dye Wonder
A chemist and hair specialist of Saint Paul has discovered what is known as the HAIR DYE WONDER. It will not color anything except the hair and just one application gives any shade you desire. Color cannot be washed out or rubbed off or fade. The Bristol Laboratories, 133 Bristol Building, Saint Paul, Minn., has secured all rights to this wonderful discovery and so much faith have they in the preparation that they back it up with a cash offer of $500.00 to anyone who finds that it dyes the scalp or rubs off. Perfectly harmless and easily applied at home. Cut this item out and send for free booklet. —Adv.

Here is a scene from Fox Films comedy drama, "The Gay Retreat," which shows at the Lyceum Sunday one day only. And, after studying the winsome beauty of Judy King, who plays the Red Cross Nurse, it is easy to understand why so many of the boys came back from "over there" to their American sweethearts over here, despite the vaunted hearts of the French girls.
The official film record of Lindbergh's many aviation triumphs will also be shown on Sunday and Monday. This is in three reels.

Color and Trim Play Part in Home Beauty

In any decorative scheme, don't forget to consider the color of the wood work.
When the wood used for window and door trim is oak, cypress, maple or birch or any wood with a beautiful grain, a waterproof varnish will give luster and bring out the grain. Woods vary in shade from light to dark brown or red. The color scheme of the room should be kept in similar tone or warm colors. Contrasting colors can then be used in some of the furnishings to give the room animation.
Light woodwork is very fashionable. And there are excellent varnish stains and enamels on the market that will give just the shade or tint in the woodwork that the color scheme of the room demands.
Varnish stains color the wood and let the grain show through. Enamels give a solid coat of color that is rich and satiny in its texture. The range of colors is wide and manufacturers give explicit directions for securing any tint or shade desired. Of course the most satisfactory finishes are absolutely waterproof and can be washed without injury to gloss or color.

X. Y. Z.
Dorothy Lee has a sweet tooth and the family always spell candy when mentioning the coveted sweets in her presence. A neighbor who is very fond of the four-year-old gave her a piece of candy. She came rushing to show mother, saying: "Mrs. Cartar gave me some X. Y. Z."

Know Your Sweetheart by His Handwriting
By EDNA PURDY WALSH
Editor, Character Reading Magazine.
Coquettish
Lack of concentrated effort in the writing is often indicative of the coquette. A desire to be seen, to attract attention brings out a style in the among my writing that might be called superfluous. Curves are to be found in the writing of one who carries the heart on the sleeve. This writer is weak, one who makes a t bar, the curves down to right resembling a capital P.

When the lower half of the letter f is brought up to the left and crosses the mainstroke without wrapping around or tying back then it may be assumed that the writer is careless in placing affections and is rather easily influenced.
When t bar is missing and l dots are "tossed in" and the writing has the appearance of being slurred, then we find the writer who says pretty things to any one at hand and likes to be the center of attraction.
Note.—Do not make final judgment until other signs in writing are studied. (Copyright.)
